

Should children in kindergarten be taught that cross-dressing is normal?

Should students in middle school be educated on the practice of sodomy?

These and other important questions are included in the enclosed survey that I strongly encourage you to complete and return. Unless we act together once again, this fall our children will be exposed to teachings that promote the homosexual "lifestyle." Please help me stop this!

Dear CWA Member,

What I am about to tell you in this letter is so outrageous you may find it hard to believe.

I must share with you the information I have discovered about the radical homosexual agenda's attempt to win affirmation of their deviant and perverted practices. But first, please take one minute to complete and return the enclosed survey on Teaching Homosexuality in America's classrooms.

This important survey is a project of Concerned Women for America (CWA) and is an important effort to determine public attitudes about the homosexual agenda in our schools.

Your survey will be tabulated and the combined results will be reported to government officials, the media, and grass-roots, pro-family activists across America.

This is your chance to be heard. This is your chance to speak out.

I thank you in advance for your participation.

You see, this survey is the result of amazing information that we've collected at CWA's national headquarters. I was astonished at what I learned.

I could not believe that our nation had fallen so far.

But every word, every report is true and documented.

Putting Families First!

Over the 25 years since I founded CWA in my kitchen, I have warned many times that our children are under attack. Now I am writing to sound the alarm to CWA members and supporters because the situation continues to worsen and it's likely that it is even more frightening than you might believe. I'll tell you more details in a moment, but here's just a sample of what I've discovered:

-  Cross-dressing promoted to grade-school children.
-  Graphic and explicit instruction in "gay" sex taught to teenage boys and girls.
-  Armed guards posted to keep parents out of high school assemblies led by radical homosexual activists.
-  A book - published by a taxpayer-funded university - that endorses sex between children and adults!

I've warned about this before, but now the evidence is beyond dispute: there is an evil scheme aimed at destroying our children.

The attack comes on many fronts. It aims to expose children to sex at earlier and earlier ages...to rob them of their innocence and open them up to immoral and unhealthy practices...to set them up to accept messages of "safe sex" and homosexuality... to usher them into becoming advocates for - and ultimately participants in - sexual promiscuity, sodomy, bisexuality, and transgenderism.

These reports confirm my worst fears about this scheme.

Radical homosexual activists have long said, "Whoever controls the schools controls the future." If they can convince the next generation that homosexuality is "just another lifestyle," there will be no stopping them.

Even more chilling, if they can lure a whole generation of young people to explore "alternative" sexual behavior...to discover their "gay side" ... they will have a broad new base of young, willing sex partners.

Step one: promote gender confusion. Nothing I have ever seen promises to confuse kids more than a lesson plan obtained and provided to me by one of our researchers here at CWA.

It is a GRADE SCHOOL LESSON THAT PROMOTES CROSS-DRESSING.

The Gay, Lesbian, and Straight Education Network, also known as GLSEN, is pushing a grade-school curriculum book that promotes cross-dressing. This book was created by a homosexual parents group at the Buena Vista Elementary School in San Francisco. It includes a lesson based on a children's book titled "Jesse's Dream Skirt."

As incredible as it sounds, this is real!!

(next page, please)

The story is about a young boy named Jesse who likes trying on his mother's dresses and dreams of a skirt "that whirled, twirled, flowed and glowed, and felt soft inside."

Jesse's mom helps him make a skirt, and he wears it to daycare, where his classmates make fun of him. The daycare teacher, Bruce, gathers the children together and says, "Jesse loves his skirt. Why are some of you making fun of him?" A girl says, "Well I wear pants. Why can't Jesse wear a skirt?"

A boy, Mike, says that one day his mother let him dress up in her old dresses and hats. "It was a lot of fun," he said, until his father came in and yelled at him, saying, "Take off that dress, I don't want my son to be a sissy!" Mike told his daycare classmates, "I don't know - I still don't see what was wrong with it."

The children and their teacher discuss the issue and most of the children end up liking Jesse's skirt. Some even start making dresses themselves.

The book ends with Jesse twirling around in his "dream skirt," with his boy-style underwear showing. The companion lesson plan says the "key message" of "Jesse's Dream Skirt" is: "Respect means keeping our minds open. Having open minds means giving people freedom to be who they want to be."

I don't know what's worse: encouraging boys to wear dresses, or the negative portrayal of Mike's father. Children who study "Jesse's Dream Skirt" are falling victim to the message that their parent's view of morality cannot be trusted.

Lest you think this sort of insanity is restricted to California or Massachusetts, take a look at this next report, straight from our nation's heartland.

Armed Security Guard Ejects Mother of Student from School Assembly on Homosexuality

This really upset me when I heard about it!

The incident took place in St. Louis, Missouri, in the fall a few years back, just after school had started for the new session. Debra Loveless, whose daughter attended Metro High School there, heard that GLSEN was conducting a school-sponsored assembly.

Loveless had told school officials that she considered the event inappropriate. When she tried to view it for herself, she was escorted out of the assembly by an armed security guard.

Can you believe the arrogance of those school administrators?

We may never know all of what those dear young people were exposed to during that assembly. But if GLSEN's past performance is any indication, the material was corrupt, perverse and destructive.

(over, please)

GLSEN has produced some of the foulest “educational” material in the dishonorable history of sex education. A few years ago you may recall that CWA exposed the fact that a pornographic teaching session had been conducted in Massachusetts by GLSEN.

During that workshop, homosexual instructors indoctrinated children as young as 14 years old. The children heard detailed description of perverted sex acts, including the dangerous practice known in homosexual slang as “fisting.”

After it was exposed, that session sparked outrage across the nation. It was the reaction to this scandal that prompted GLSEN leaders to be more secretive, and likely contributed to the efforts to keep out parents in St. Louis.

So now it has come to this: Our tax dollars foot the bill for homosexual propaganda to poison our children’s minds and defile their hearts. And when parents want to find out what’s going on, they are thrown out of public schools by armed guards!

My friend, it is time for parents and grandparents to stand up and fight to protect our children, not just in Massachusetts, Missouri and California but across the nation. And just because it hasn’t happened in your local school district yet, don’t think that it won’t! Your schools may be next!

That’s why I have enclosed our survey on Teaching Homosexuality in America’s classrooms. Please complete it and return it as soon as possible.

We must act quickly. Time is running out and schools are already opening in some parts of America. As my next report shows, the last taboo - the taboo against sex between adults and children - is under attack.

Dangerous New Book Provides Academic “Cover” for Pedophiles and Child Molesters

The University of Minnesota Press recently published Judith Levine’s Harmful to Minors: The Perils of Protecting Children from Sex. This book includes such outrageous statement as “Sex is not harmful to children...There are many ways even the smallest children can partake of it.”

On another page, the author gushes over a “lush and mysterious” photo of a “naked 3- or 4- year-old.” Quoting a variety of pedophiles, Levine says children are not necessarily harmed by sex with adults. She also advocates that America adopt a law like Holland’s that legalizes sex between adults and children as young as 12!

It’s unbelievable, but this book is defended by the liberal media elites.

I’m shocked and heartbroken to have to deliver this offensive message to you.

But we should not be surprised. American standards of sexual morality have eroded to the point that

Sex between adults and children is just the next barrier to be torn down. How long will it take these radical activists to achieve their next evil objective?

Our grade-school children are already being taught that cross-dressing is just wonderful self expression. Graphic details of perverted sex practices are already being taught to high school children. And parents are being locked out of assemblies lead by radical homosexual activists.

We must - and we can - stop this. Now!

I grieve for our children and grandchildren. And I fear for our nation if we do not stand up to this assault of immorality and defeat it.

I was reminded of a passage in the Old Testament book of the prophet Ezekiel. In Chapter 22, the Lord recounts the many sins of Jerusalem, including many examples of sexual immorality and perversity. Finally, God says, "I sought for a man among them who should build up the wall and stand in the breach before me for the land, that I should not destroy it; but I found none."

We need to be people who stand in the gap for our children and for America. I ask you to do three things.

 First, pray. This attack is spiritual, and we must fight back on our knees to defend our schools and our children.

 Next, complete and return the enclosed survey. It is critical that I be able to report the results of this important tool.

 Finally, send a tax-deductible gift to help me and CWA fight our part of the battle.

As you can imagine, fighting the radical homosexual agenda is expensive.

Our enemies seem to have an abundant supply or funding. But your gift of $20, $30, $50, $100 or even more will help us because it will be combined with the support of other concerned Americans.

If we act together, we can stand in the gap and halt the assault on our children.

I have CWA's tireless staff hitting this issue head on. Legislative Director Lanier Swann and her team are on Capitol Hill daily advancing our pro-family agenda. Chief Counsel Jan LaRue is often seen on TV and heard on Radio educating Americans on our legal efforts to protect our children. CWA's Culture and Family Institute is headed by Robert Knight who has traveled far and wide debating radical homosexuals and his efforts have lead to a broader awareness of the homosexual agenda.

You may have also seen Senior Policy Analyst Wendy Wright, or Dr. Janice Crouse, Senior Fellow of the Beverly LaHaye Institute, on TV or quoted in the newspapers on these issues important to our families.
(over, please)

To continue advancing our cause, we need your help. Please include the most generous gift you can when you return your completed survey.

Your tax-deductible gift will help us maintain our powerful voice in defense of Biblical values.

More and more, the pro-family movement is turning to CWA for leadership. If we are unable to stand in the gap for our children, who will? We know the radical homosexual activists and all their allies are intent on corrupting our children and they will not surrender their efforts.

They think they can lure our children into depravity while we sit by and do nothing.

I refuse to allow this to happen!

Please join me to stop this wicked, evil agenda now.

Sincerely,

Beverly LaHaye
Founder and Chairman

P.S. - GLSEN has a budget of several million dollars and counts more than a thousand homosexual activists on their team. They are well connected and have influential backers in the educational establishment of this country. The National Education Association (NEA) is strong in its support of homosexual “rights” - including the right to “gay” marriage! But if we take strong and decisive action now, we can win. Just a few short weeks ago, parents lead by CWA activists in Montgomery County, Maryland (just outside Washington, D.C.) won a great victory when they forced the school board to halt implementation of a strongly pro-homosexual sex education curriculum. When we follow our formula of prayer and action, we can and will win. Please complete and return your survey today along with your tax-deductible gift and share this information with your friends — they need to get involved as well. Thanks!

P.P.S. - This letter is not the first time I have warned parents and other concerned citizens about the homosexual agenda, “Jesse’s Dream Skirt,” and the homosexuals’ plan to impact the culture through our schools. I have been telling people about it for years. Earlier this year a parent and friend of CWA, David Parker of Lexington, Massachusetts, tried in vain to find out what his then six year old son was being taught about homosexuality. When he couldn’t get an answer and school officials refused to show him materials from the classroom, David went to the school in person. He demanded to be told what his child was being taught but again was refused and told to leave the school where his own child was enrolled. When he failed to comply, the police were called in and Mr. Parker was arrested. He now awaits his trial. My dear friend, this is what we are up against. Liberals are willing to arrest parents to stop us from getting the word out about how the homosexual agenda is making its way into our schools. Please, respond today and join CWA’s efforts to bring decency back to our schools. Thank you.
